The first UNITED NATIONS agency to open an office in Suriname was PAHO/WHO in 1971. UNDP subsequently signed a Standard Basic Assistance Agreement with the government in 1978. Since then two (2) other UN agencies, UNICEF (1996) and UNFPA (2003) established a presence in the country.

Three United Nations agencies (UNDP, UNICEF and UNFPA) share common premises in the UN House located in Heerenstraat, Paramaribo. PAHO/WHO is located in Burenstraat, 2 miles from the UN House. There are twelve UN agencies supporting Suriname’s development efforts including PAHO/WHO, UNICEF, UNDP, UNFPA, FAO, UNIFEM, UNAIDS, UNECLAC, ILO, UNESCO, UNIC and WFP. Only PAHO/WHO, UNICEF, UNDP and UNFPA are resident in the country.
