On Friday December 10th, on the occasion of Human Rights Day, UNDP signed the contract with the FHR Institute for Social Studies to conduct a post-graduate course on Human Rights for government officials serving as Human Rights focal points in their respective ministries. The course is scheduled to start in the first quarter of 2011 and modules include: Human Rights legislation in Suriname; the Inter-American system and International Human Rights reporting obligations, treaty bodies and the UPR. The Human Rights Course for Government officials is one of the activities under the Human Rights, Access to Justice and Anti Corruption project. This project was signed in 2009 between the Ministry of Justice and Police and UNDP and runs until end 2011.
